

Exceptional leave to remain

Persons not (no longer) taking part in the asylum procedure or having received a negative decision, but whose deportation has been suspended receive a “certificate on the suspension of deportation” from the aliens department which is called “exceptional leave to remain”.