

Makers space

Maker spaces are open workshops of the 21st century where people work creatively. These spaces often provide new technologies such as 3D printers or laser cutters intended to help develop new ideas in experimental do-it-yourself projects.